

Staple Hill and Mangotsfield

Staple Hill and Mangotsfield parish council consultation

15 October 2021 to 7 January 2022

South Gloucestershire Council is carrying out a review of the way decisions are made on local issues in your area and we want to hear your views. We want to know if you would like a parish council created to represent the interests of Staple Hill and Mangotsfield

Why are we carrying out the review now?

The area where you live is currently unparished - there is no town or parish council in place. Arrangements in the unparished area were last reviewed in 2012. The current review provides a good opportunity to look again at arrangements in this area.

What are the proposals?

The initial proposal in the unparished areas is for two new parish areas to be created; a parish council to represent Staple Hill and Mangotsfield and a town council to represent Kingswood. This leaflet outlines the proposal for Staple Hill and Mangotsfield.

The area suggested for inclusion within this potential parish is shown on the enclosed map. It comprises most of the Staple Hill and Mangotsfield district ward and includes around 6000 properties and just over 10,100 residents are eligible to vote in local elections.

What is a parish council?

- Parish councils are a local form of government and are voted for during elections to represent a dedicated community.
- Parish councils have statutory powers which may be complimentary to those provided by South Gloucestershire Council, such as looking after local parks.
- They focus on very local issues and concerns.

Why have a parish council?

Parish councils can take different forms but are usually made up of local people who stand for election as a Councillor to represent their area. They can be the voice of the local community and work with other government and organisations to coordinate and deliver services and work to improve the quality of life in the area.

Parish councils may choose to provide extra or improved local services, for example:

- Community and leisure facilities e.g., community halls, allotments
- Recreation and play facilities e.g., parks, play areas, sports pitches
- Activities for young people and children e.g., holiday and youth clubs
- Community events and festivals
- On street improvement e.g., flowers, litter bins, bus shelters
- Support/grants for local voluntary groups and represent the community on local bodies e.g., Chambers of Commerce
- Local 'watchdog' on planning and other local matters

What about the costs?

Parish councils are funded through a charge added to your Council Tax. This is known as a precept. These funds are required to be used to invest in the area to provide or improve local services or facilities.

In unparished areas, as Staple Hill and Mangotsfield are now, we (South Gloucestershire Council) provided some services which are provided elsewhere by parish councils. The costs of providing such services are called special expenses. These special expenses are funded through a charge added to your Council Tax. If Staple Hill and Mangotsfield had its own Parish Council, this charge would be reviewed and potentially stopped if they delivered all the additional services.

A town or parish council precept will depend on the size of the parish, the services it provides and the number of properties across which it is spread. It is not possible to say how much a precept would be for an area which is currently unparished. Any new parish council would be able to set its own precept level and it would depend on the services and facilities it wants to provide. The parish council will be accountable to its residents and as such will need to be realistic in the setting their precept.

What are the possibilities?

There are a number of possible outcomes of this review, which fall into the following categories:

Option 1: A new parish council is created for Staple Hill and Mangotsfield (as shown on the map on the next page)

This would mean that a parish council is created to represent the interests of residents in Staple Hill and Mangotsfield.

Option 2: Join with existing neighbouring parishes

Residents in some parts of the unparished area may decide they would like to become part of a parish that neighbours the currently unparished area.

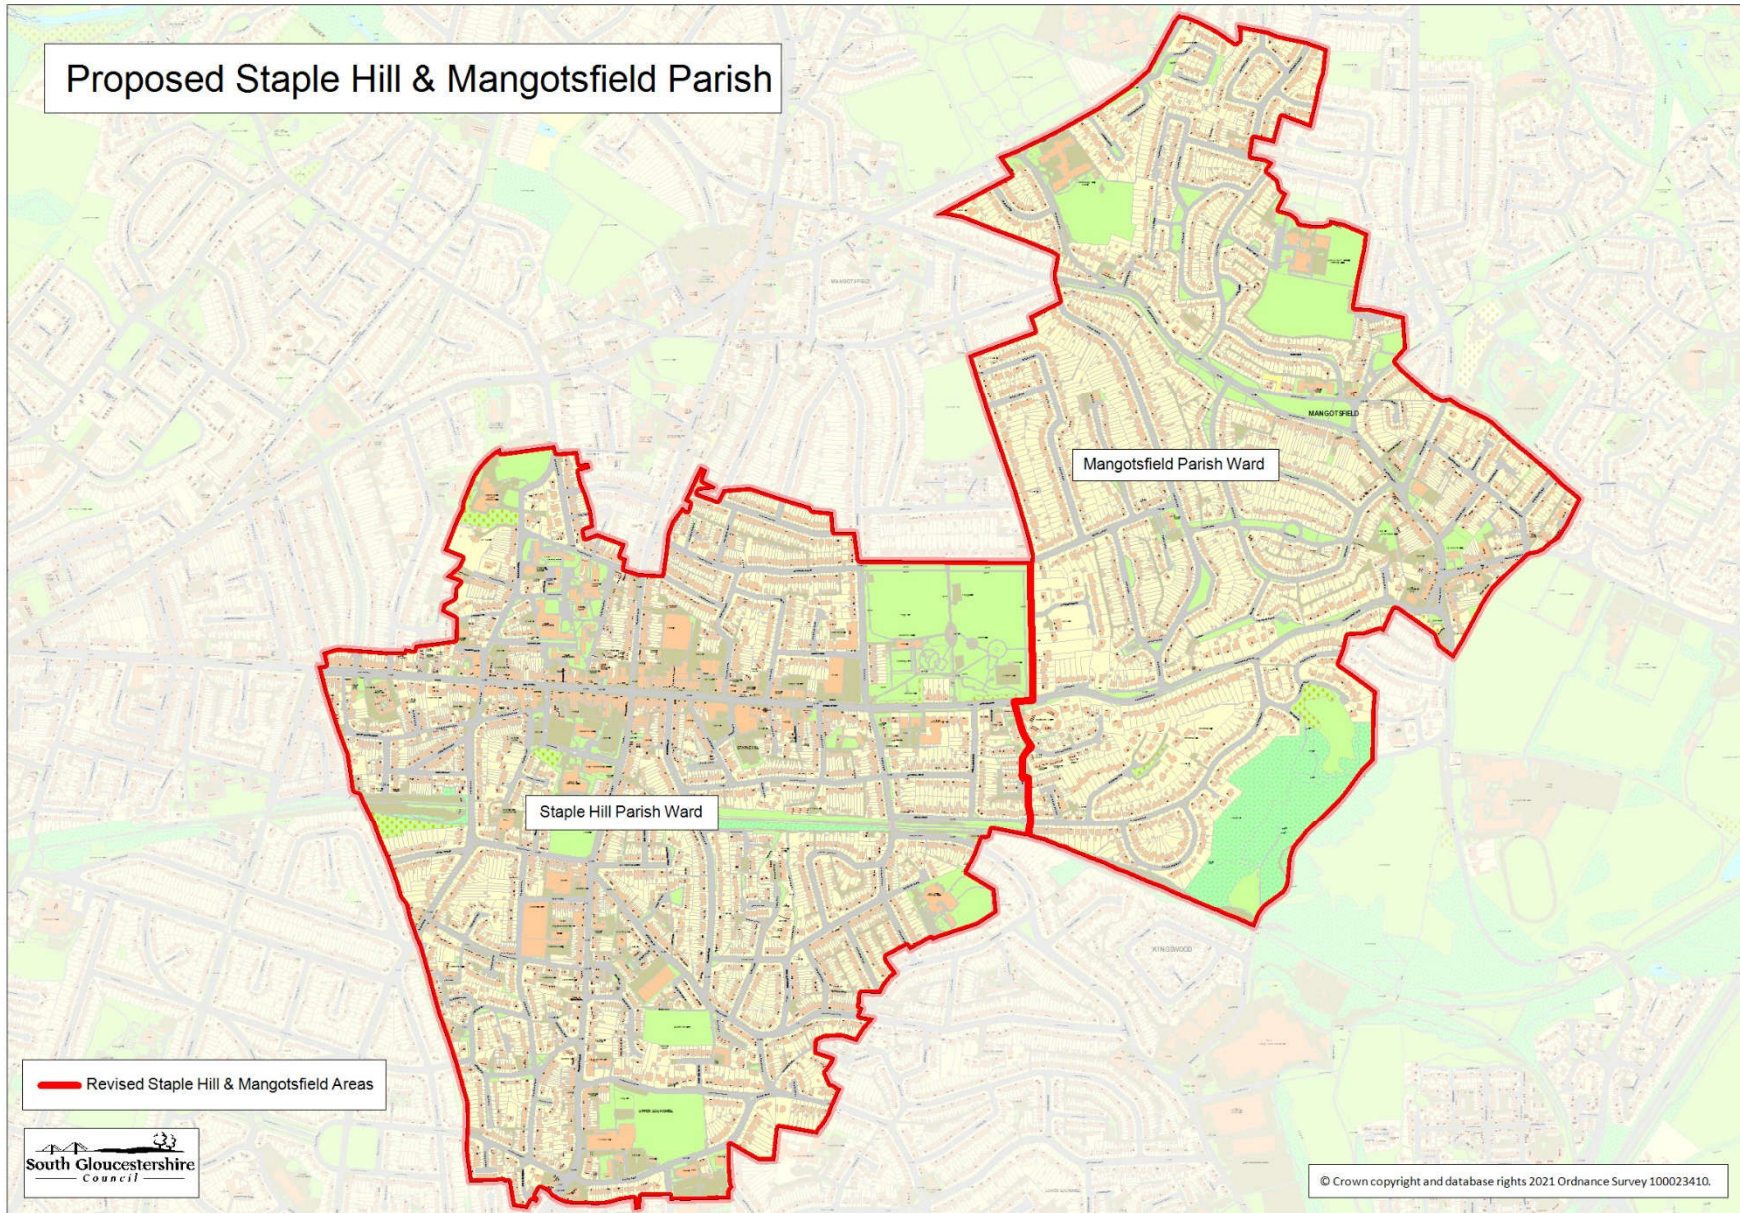

Option 3: No change

This would mean that no parish council was created.

What happens next?

All the responses will be reviewed and used in a report to go to our Regulatory Committee at the end of January 2022. If a decision is made to either create a new parish council for Staple Hill and Mangotsfield or join with another town or parish council, then we will consult again with further detail around how this might work for Staple Hill and Mangotsfield.
