

Statement of Reasons

Westerleigh, Dodington and Yate - Yate Spur Cycle Path - Nibley Lane to the Road to Nowhere

Background

South Gloucestershire Council is continuing work to complete the Yate Spur cycle path. When complete the path will provide a shared use route between the Bristol and Bath railway path at Coxgrove Hill and Station Road, Yate.

Purpose of Scheme

To provide a continuous off carriageway route for commuting, leisure and recreation, linking Yate with the Ring Road cycle path and the Bristol and Bath railway path.

Proposed Scheme

This consultation focuses on the following sections of the route:

- Nibley Lane crossing
- Shire Way.

We are currently liaising with Network Rail regarding the path at the Westerleigh Road/Shire Way railway bridge and details for the Dodmoor crossing to Nibley Lane section are being developed.

Drawing Reference

An overview of the route and progress to date is shown on drawing T002-015-312.

The Nibley Lane to Shire Way section of the route is shown on drawing T002-015-313.

Proposals for the following sections are shown on the following drawings:

- T002-015-314 Nibley Lane crossing
- T002-015-315 Shire Way.

Timescale

Construction of the following sections is expected as follows, subject to funding:

- Nibley Lane crossing, summer 2017
- Railway viaduct on Westerleigh Road near Shire Way, summer 2017
- Shire Way between Westerleigh Road and Rodford Way, autumn 2017.
